To: Melissa Gruys, Dean, Doermer School of Business
Re: Major in Money and Banking

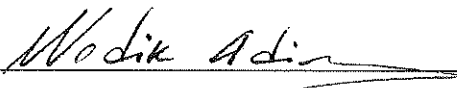

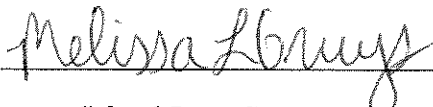

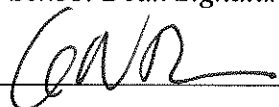

Brief description of the program:

The purpose of the major is to prepare students for positions in the banking and financial services industries.

Brief rationale for program request:

There are approximately 12,100 jobs related to financial activities in Fort Wayne. The number of jobs in this sector increased by 2.5% in 2018. Furthermore, the number of jobs related to the banking industry that require a bachelor's degree is expected to grow at a higher rate than the average job growth rate for the economy. The proposed major will help to meet the increased industry demand by preparing students for the positions in the banking industry.
