

Hazard Communication Awareness Training Certification

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) requires that employee exposure information be maintained for 30 years (29 CFR 1910.20), and that employees be made aware of the Hazard Communication Standard, also referred to as the "Right-To-Know" program, at their place of employment (29 CFR 1910.1200). This form will serve as part of the exposure history and will serve to document individual awareness of the University's Right-To-Know program. Purdue University's Hazard Communication Program document can be found on the PFW EHS Safety Training website.

After reviewing the training PowerPoint provided by PFW EHS on Hazard Communication Awareness, please complete and return a copy of this form to your supervisor or Designated Trained Individual (DTI). By signing below you acknowledge that you are aware of the Purdue Hazard Communication Program and the policies and procedures applicable to the OSHA standard (29 CFR 1910.1200). Your supervisor or DTI will provide additional information and training as appropriate.
