

New Coordinator of Student Success Coaches Packs Schedule to Gain Valuable Experience

Most people on the Purdue University Fort Wayne campus would look at Emma Hedrick's schedule and wonder when she sleeps. After all, it takes her an Excel spreadsheet and an office whiteboard to keep track of everything.

But it also keeps her happy.

"All the things that I do, they don't really feel like work to me," the junior from Fort Wayne said. "They just feel like things that I love doing. I'm always excited to come to work."

Work takes different forms for Hedrick. She's a cadet in the ROTC program, served as the vice president of finance for the Student Government Association during the recently completed academic year, and is now the student coordinator for the Office of Admission's team of student success coaches.

Planning a Summer Camp? Don't Forget to Follow the Guidelines for Youth Programs

All PFW employees and students who work with minors—anyone under 18 years old—are required to abide by Purdue University's Programs Involving Minors policy and follow the Operating Procedures for Programs Involving Minors. This applies to any program or activity including camps, academic enrichment opportunities, daycares, clinics, conferences, fairs, workshops, clubs, lessons, projects, and practices for participants under the age of 18.

If you are planning to conduct a youth program, read the PFW Youth Protection and Procedures Checklist 2024 to get started. Check out some of the PFW youth programs on campus at pfw.edu/youth.

For additional questions, contact Mary Encabo Bischoff, director of youth programs, mary.encabo@pfw.edu, and Lisa Zerkle, director of special events and campus emergency preparedness, zerklel@pfw.edu.
