

Question Time

Given 16 tenure-track faculty positions were vacated last year, and that represents approximately 5 % of all tenure-track faculty; and

Given recent decisions to recruit for 6 of those positions, which leaves 10 unfilled and represents an approximately 3% reduction in tenure-track positions:

1. Are you planning on filling more of these this academic year? If so, when, and how many?
2. Have you reduced personnel in all other segments of the university by a minimum of approximately 3%?

Michael Nusbaumer
Department of Sociology