In Fall 2014, the administration indicated that there was a study being conducted of ways that the subsidy for Athletics could be reduced, and that Athletics could become more economically self-sufficient. What is the status of that study? When will the final version of the study be completed and made available? What is the current estimate for the total costs of Athletics for 2014-15? How does this compare with total costs for 2012-13 and 2013-14?
