

Question Time
(for Chancellor Wartell)

I have two questions about the policy statement on diversity dated November 14, 1994, specifically regarding the establishment of the Diversity Council.

1. Does the Council have the power to establish rules that become mandatory policy for all university matters, including curriculum content and classroom teaching?
2. If the recommendations of the Council are not official policy, will the recommendations nonetheless become policy by fiat?

Ken Bordens
Psychology